

Markus Miesenberger

Tenor

Markus Miesenberger, born in Linz, studied singing at the University of Music in Vienna with Professor Sebastian Vittucci, song and oratorio with Professor Robert Holl and opera with Professor Theimer and Professor Orlovsky.

He performed at numerous festivals, such as Styriarte, Carinthian Summer, Tyrolean Festivals, Musica Sacra Linz, Bruckner Festival and Bruckner Days in St. Florian. He regularly sings in the Grazer Stephaniensaal, in the Grazer Helmut-Liszt Hall and in the Vienna Konzerthaus.

He can also be heard in the Schlosstheater Schönbrunn, where he played in Carl Orff's "Die Kluge" and in the Operette "Die Fledermaus" from Johann Strauß, in the Wiener Museumsquartier, he was to be seen at the theatre Linz in Stephen Sondheim's "Sweeney Todd", at the theatre of Bozen (Italy) and at the Neue Oper Wien.